HAS JEFFRIES GOT COLD FEET?

Big Prizefighter Now Says that He Will Not Fight Johnson

Montreal, July 12.—James J. Jeffries has given out the following announcement: "I won't fight Johnson, for I have decided to quit the fighting game. I can't get into my old class, and I don't want to fight beyond the color line anyway. I would like to see the championship go to a white man, but I can't go in to retrieve it myself. There are plenty of men who can trim this man Johnson, and I wouldn't wonder if it would be an unexpected Hoosier. But the fans might as well count me out."

Jeffries is in Montreal, closing up his theatrical season which has netted him about $75,000. For the past three or four months he has been boomed along the vaudeville circuit as the man who was to fight Johnson as soon as he could get back into condition so that the championship should not stay with a black man.

Everywhere the public felt for this stuff. "Jeff" drew big houses. He made brief speeches, saying he would fight Johnson as soon as he got into shape. Publicity men and press agent kept "Jeff" in the lime light and some fight fans began to believe that "Jeff" really would get right after that Johnson person sometime and take the belt away from him.

LONG TIME ASSOCIATES

Present a Valuable Ring to William H. White

On Saturday afternoon, when William H. White, for twenty-six years manager of the Hammond Beef company, was completing his duties with that firm, he was surrounded by the force of employees who have associated with him many years and presented with a handsome gold ring as a mark of the esteem in which he is held after rounding out 26 years of work at the head of the establishment. Horace W. Gray, who has until recently been connected with the firm, for 20 years or more, made the presentation and for the first time Councilman White had to wait for words in his response.

He, however, recovered from the surprise and feelingly thanked the crew for the beautiful, costly gift and well wishes.

COAST ARTILLERY HERE

Four National Guard Companies Are in Camp at Fort Constitution

The four companies of coast artillery reserves, now belonging to the New Hampshire national guard, went into camp this forenoon at Fort Constitution for the annual tour of duty.

The Exeter company arrived by special trolley cars and landed in Market square at 8.30. Their boxes were placed in front of the North church under military guard while the most of the company, with the two baggies in front, marched via Pleasant and Court streets to the Armory of the First company in this city.

The Laconia and Dover companies came by train and landed in similar fashion at the Boston and Maine depot at 9.05. Their baggage was left at the depot under guard while the most of the men marched to the Armory via Bridge, Congress, Fleet and Court streets.

The goods in the square and at the depot were later taken to the fort by teams.

Captain Chauncey D. Hoyt of the First company had been designated to command the united four companies, numbering more than 200 men, and the commanders of the Exeter, Dover and Laconia companies reported to him on arrival.

At ten o'clock the march to the forts was taken up. The four companies in heavy marching order, with blanket rolls, guns, knapsacks, haversacks, tin cups, etc., made a fine appearance in the street as they marched off with even steps, and their fine young faces looked so alert and intelligent. The olive drab uniform does not give the picturesque color effect that was obtained from the blue, but it does look business-like, and the boys look the same.

At the fort, they were assigned camping ground and pitched their tents, the same as they would do in actual war and get ready for the activities of camp life.

This afternoon at half past two o'clock, Capt. R. B. McBride, commanding the forts, lectured in the Post library to the men, his topic being "Military Discipline and Methods."

Strict military rules will govern the encampment and there will be very little if any leave of absence for the grounds.

Lieut. Wildrick of Fort Constitution is officer of the day.

The artillery band from Fort Williams, Portland harbor, will arrive on Tuesday morning by army transport, and will be here through the week.

Guard mount will come at 10.30 a. m. and parade at 5.30 p. m. each day this week.

The men will get a week's course of instruction in artillery work.

Governor Quibby and staff are at the Wentworth hotel to spend the week.

It is understood discipline was employed in talking several men from their work in Portsmouth and other cities for duty at this encampment.

CONFLICTING EVIDENCE

IN SUTTON CASE—NEW WITNESS TO BE HEARD

Washington, July 11.—Beckman Winthrop, assistant secretary of the navy, has given out an official statement explaining the reasons for the reopening of the investigation into the death of Lieut. James N. Sutton of the marine corps who died as a result of a wound in the head caused by a pistol shot on Oct. 13, 1907.

After reviewing the case, the details of which are now pretty well known, the statement says:

"In view of the fact that the evidence before the first board of inquiry was not taken under oath and that a careful review of the evidence discloses certain missing or conflicting features, and of the further fact that an officer of the marine corps is accused of having fired the fatal shot, the department has ordered a court of inquiry to convene at Annapolis the 19th instant to conduct a thorough investigation, all witnesses being under oath, for the purpose of determining whether the responsibility for the death of Lieut. Sutton rests on anyone besides himself, and if it does to bring the guilty party to trial, and if it does not, to clear the name of the party so accused of the stigma attached to his name by the false accusation."

Lieut. Adams, who is now stationed at Sea Girt, N. J., was in conference with officials of the marine corps yesterday. Lieut. Adams made an attempt to obtain permission from the navy department to read the testimony he gave at the former investigation of the Sutton case. He did not make the request personally, but had a friend take up the question with the department to ascertain whether or not such a request from him would be considered. The department declined to allow Lieut. Adams to read the testimony. His friend was informed that it would be better for Lieut. Adams to rely on his memory for the details of the affair rather than to refresh his memory by reading the former testimony.

Lieut. Roelker, who figured prominently in the affair, disappeared shortly after the affair and his present whereabouts are not known either to the department or to his family. Mrs. Roelker, his mother, who is a resident of this city, said she had not seen her son since he left the marine corps in December, 1907.

"I do not know where my son is," she said. "He left Annapolis in December, 1907, shortly after the investigation into the Sutton case, and disappeared, no one knows where. He did not come home and sent no word. We have not heard from him in all this time and we do not know whether he is alive or dead."

One of the developments in the case is that one of the officers said to be mixed up in the affair is a nephew of a U. S. senator.

A witness who was not called before the first board of inquiry will be Raymond Taylor, an undertaker of Annapolis, who took charge of Sutton's body after it had been removed to the Naval hospital.

"I distinctly remember that the bullet hole in the dead lieutenant's head was as much as two inches back of the right ear," said Taylor. "It was in a place where it would have been extremely difficult for a man to shoot himself."

Other facts have also come to light which make the theory of suicide appear almost a physical impossibility. For example, the course of the bullet was downward. The weapon used was nearly a foot long. There was no powder marks. Even if Sutton had a long enough arm to be able to cock it around backward and fire into the back of his head in a downward direction, said one physician acquainted with the case, the flame of the powder would have burned away all the hair around the wound. But such was not the case. Not a hair was singed.

Thinker Adams innocent

Lieut. Osterman of the marine corps now stationed at the navy yard here who was one of the party at Annapolis at the time of Lieut. Sutton's death, claims that Lieut. Adams is absolutely innocent in the matter.

Lieut. Osterman says: "There is only one question in the matter that is whether Sutton fired to kill the officer of the day, who was holding him at the time or whether he fired to kill himself. It is certain that he met death by his own hand."

When asked why he quarreled with Sutton, he said his trouble with his brother officer was due to his attempt to act as peacemaker during the row between the two men.

NEW CATHOLIC BISHOP

Boston, July 12.—Bishop Anderson will be formally consecrated auxiliary bishop of Boston on Sunday morning, July 25, at the Cathedral. Archbishop O'Connell will conduct the ceremonies of consecration during the celebration of a low mass, which will begin at 10 o'clock. The Cathedral will be open to the public without tickets, and only a small section will be reserved for the clergy.

The new bishop, the youngest in this country, was appointed by Pope Pius X, through Mgr. Falconio, papal delegate at Washington, on April 19 last. About the middle of that week he went to Washington and there took the oath of office at the hands of Mgr. Falconio. Since then he has been in charge of the business of the diocese during the archbishop's absence in Rome.

BIG INCREASE IN POST OFFICE RECEIPTS

Dayton, O., leads with an increase of 49 percent. New Haven Conn. had an increase of 27 percent; and Hartford, Conn. 22 percent.

The largest receipts for any one of the cities were at the New York city office, the amount taken in being $1,666,588 or an increase of 11.5 percent over 1908.

Chicago ranks second, with receipts totaling $1,285,528, an increase of 12.5 over 1908.

The net increase for all the fifty offices over June, 1908 was 12.5 percent compared with 9.34 percent in 1908 over 1907.

CATHOLIC UNION DEFEAT ELKS
(AND P. A. C. LOSE TO YORK)
BEACH ON SATURDAY

Catholic Union 7—Elks 4

The Catholic Union baseball team defeated the Elks at the Kittery grounds on Saturday afternoon in an interesting, but at times a loosely played game. The Elks started the game with Retherstone in the box and the Catholic Union took kindly to his delivery for in three innings they had piled up five runs. The Elks secured three runs the same inning but after that they were powerless to bunt their way off Driscoll and they failed to score again. The Catholic Union on the other hand secured two runs off Leary who replaced Retherstone.

All three pitchers were hit freely but the Catholic Union bunched their runs made by Tommy Lynsky and Pat Powers the ball being lost in the grass in deep right, gave them the game. Jack Mates one of the old time players who is playing with the Union had his eye on the ball for his made three hits Kivran also wielded the stick in good shape. For the Elks Cragen led the batting and also played a fine fielding game. One of the features of the games was the double play of Hanson and Goodrich.

The local team did not have a lookin for they were unable to hit Hazton effectively and their fielding was not of the best many errors adding to the big score rolled up by the York Beach team.

P. Jewell who pitched for the P. A. C. was hit at will by the college players and this combined with the fact that the condition of the grounds makes a hit into the left field equivalent to a home run soon piled up the score. The line up of the P. A. C. was P. Jewell pitcher, G. Jewell catcher, Roder Power first base, Thrasher second base, Hatch short, Twedick third, W. Woods left field, Locke center and Newick right.

The score by innings:
Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
York Beach: 0 4 0 5 2 0 3 3 —17
Portsmouth: 0 2 2 0 0 1 1 0 0 —6
Hits, York Beach 12, P. A. C. 9
Errors York Beach 3, P. A. C. 7
Batteries, Hazton and McLane; P. Jewell and G. Jewell.

Although it was a fine day Sunday there was not the usual heavy automobile travel through this section. The threatening weather of the forenoon may have prevented the owners of machines from starting on a long trip.

Tentative arrangements have been made by the navy department to have the first and second divisions of the Pacific fleet cruise in Asiatic and Philippine waters during the next autumn and winter. The vessels probably will leave the Pacific coast late in August and return to the United States late in March.

There are two applications this year by enlisted men of the navy for examination for promotion to ensign—John Davis, boatswain on the Cherony, and Harry Adams, runner, on duty at the Indian Head proving grounds.

The new fleet collier, for which bids are soon to be opened at the navy department, will be the latest model of that type of auxiliary naval vessel.

The naval constructors have been consulting foreign sources of information on the subject, and the collier will represent a new device in design and construction of that sort of ship.

The dimensions are: Length, 520 feet beam, 65 feet; draft, 27 feet, 6 inches, and displacement, 18,300 tons. The collier will carry 12,500 tons of coal, as well as 1,000 tons of oil. The latter will be used as fuel for the fifteen torpedo boat destroyers which are nearing completion or are under construction. The speed of the collier will be fourteen knots. It is not intended to place any armament on the collier beyond, perhaps, a few rapid fire guns to repel torpedo attack. It has not been decided whether to install a device for cooling at sea on the new collier. The experts differ on the subject, some of them maintaining that under the new conditions of naval engagement it will be necessary to have more than the ordinary method of transferring fuel from the collier to a fighting ship.

Coaling at sea is conducted with considerable trouble and at much reduced speed under the most favorable circumstances of weather and sea. It is intended to add this collier to the Atlantic fleet.

FIGHTING FOR LIBERTY

Seattle, Wash., July 12.—Information concerning the escape of the band of political convicts in the interior of Siberia, who are making their way toward East Cape, on the extreme east coast, in an effort to reach Alaska, was brought to Seattle Saturday by John W. Kelley, who has long been identified with affairs in the Arctic region, both in Alaska and Siberia.

"The first word of the escape of the convicts reached Capt. Nekalnikoff, Khabarovsk governor at Nienay. Kallmaki, 1500 miles from East Cape, March 13," said Mr. Kelly. "He immediately sent a detachment of his men in pursuit. They overtook and engaged the exiles 100 miles from the coast. The Cossacks were defeated and seven of them killed. Several of the exiles met the same fate.

"Reduced in numbers by death from exposure and many having been killed in battles with natives the numbered 20 when last heard from. They have looted villages and killed natives only in cases where their demands for dogs, food and reindeer have been refused.

"Capt. Kallnikoff dispatched a band of messengers to East Cape, who struggled for 1500 miles over the rough wilderness of the peninsula, several perishing on the way with a warning to the commander of the garrison at East Cape.

"The escaped criminals are not of the low criminal class, but are political prisoners. Upon receipt of the letter from Capt. Kallnikoff at East Cape on June 20, the day I left, word was immediately sent to Vladivostok for a gunboat to patrol the coast.

ASTRONOMER OF GREAT FAME

Professor Newcomb Passes Away In Washington

WAS A PROLIFIC WRITER

Text Books and Exhaustive Studies on Astronomy, Mathematics and Political Economy Gained Him International Reputation—Leading Scientific Societies and Royalty Recognized His Ability

Washington, July 12.—Professor Simon Newcomb, the astronomer, died at his home in this city at the age of 74. He will be buried with military honors in Arlington cemetery next Wednesday.

High officials of the government will attend, and the honorary pall-bearers will include many prominent men in public life. The body will lie in state today and Tuesday at the family residence, so that it may be viewed by Washingtonians, who have regarded him as one of the world's greatest scientists.

SIMON NEWCOMB.

Professor Newcomb is survived by his wife and three daughters, Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee of Washington, Mrs. Francis Wilson of New York and Mrs. Edward Whitney of New York.

During his career Newcomb was the recipient of many honors from leading scientific societies and from royalty. He was a member of the Institute of France, the Royal Astronomical Society of Great Britain and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

During his services with the United States government he conducted a number of parties to foreign lands to observe eclipses. He published the tables of the motions of the stars, the planets and the moon, now used by astronomers in their computations and the basis of the navigation of the vessels of the world.

His astronomical researches cover more than 300 papers and a long list of books on astronomy, mathematics and political economy. Some of these are text books, while others are exhaustive studies of subjects. His first elaborate paper, "Secular variations and mutual relations of the orbits of the asteroids," won him international fame.

Professor Newcomb held many important positions, including that of professor of mathematics at Johns Hopkins University. He held the degree of LL. D. from Yale, Harvard, Columbia, George Washington and other universities.

He entered the United States navy as professor of mathematics in 1861, after his graduation from the Lawrence scientific school of Harvard. He was retired with the rank of rear admiral in 1897.

MINISTER'S CHILD KILLED

Bullet Fired by Unknown Person Passed Completely Through Body of Young Girl, July 12.—Helen M. Snow, the 11-year-old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Joseph A. Snow of Hattiesburg, was struck by a bullet from a rifle in the hands of some unknown person in her father's hayfield and died from the wound.

The bullet passed completely through the girl's body, piercing the lungs. It is supposed that the shot was fired by some one firing at a target, although Sheriff White, who is investigating the case, has as yet discovered no clue.

A Peculiar Fatality
Lowell, Mass., July 12.—Crushed between a piano and the side of a house when the automobile truck of an express company backed suddenly into the instrument, Frank McFarland, aged 38, an employee of the express company, was instantly killed.

The accident was due, it is said, to the chauffeur of the truck, Raymond Yettou, pulling the reverse lever. He was arrested on the charge of manslaughter.

WILL APPEAL TO COURT

Ousted Police Commissioners Think Mayor Was in the Wrong
Lowell, Mass., July 12.—Council for former Police Commissioners Stearns, Hanson and Douglas, who were removed from office Saturday by Mayor Brown, announce that an appeal will be taken to the superior court for a review of the evidence. A conference of the attorneys was held today, at which arrangements were made to take the legal steps necessary for the appeal, as the attorneys assert that the finding of the mayor was contrary to the evidence.

The action of the mayor, who before his election as mayor was a member of the police force, came as a sequel to a prolonged hearing at which charges against the commissioners in connection with the enforcement of the liquor law and the issuance of licenses were thrashed out.

The police board as named by Mayor Brown consists of Simon B. Harris, chairman, who was formerly chief of police of Malden; Charles S. Lilley, formerly a judge of the superior court, and Winfred C. MacDwyne, the mayor's private secretary.

THAW AGAIN IN COURT

Will Not Have Jerome to Contend With in Present Inquiry

White Plains, N. Y., July 12.—Harry K. Thaw, the slayer of Stamford White, appeared before Justice Mills today in the supreme court at the continuation of the inquiry into his present mental state.

Thaw, his counsel and his mother and other relatives are greatly pleased over the decision of Justice Gaynor of Brooklyn denying the application for a change of venue to New York county. They build their hopes of the plaintiff's ultimate release from Mattowan on the fact that Gaynor's decision removes District Attorney Jerome of New York, who opposes the release proceedings, from the case as a direct factor and keeps the trial in this county.

The case is now entirely in the hands of the attorney general of this state and Deputy Attorney General Clark will conduct the opposition to Thaw's release.

AUTOS START IN THE GLIDDEN TOUR

Contestants in Reliability Test Leave Detroit

Detroit, July 12.—With all the ceremony that befits so notable an event in automobile history the sixth annual Glidden tour, known officially as "the annual reliability contest of the American Automobile association," was started today from the Campus Martius in this city. A large and enthusiastic assembly, headed by the city officials, was on hand to see the thirty machines begin their tour of 25,737 miles.

The tour, which is primarily an endurance test of the cars engaged, will go by way of Chicago to Minneapolis, to Omaha, thence to Denver, and return to Kansas City, where it will disband. The distance must be covered in fifteen days, exclusive of two days' rest in Minneapolis and two in Denver.

Owing to the rigid tests applied to the machines the Glidden tour is really a contest of manufacturers. They compete this year for three trophies—the Glidden for touring cars, the Hower for runabouts and roadsters and the Detroit for the miniature tonneau type of a car. In addition, there are a few noncontingent participants and the two official cars. An exceedingly close watch is kept on each contestant by all the others, and every flaw or defect in the construction or running of the car is noted and penalized.

GREAT FLEET PRIMED FOR WAR

Ships Leave Provincetown For Proving Grounds

NUMBER HALF A HUNDRED

Demonstration of Worth of "Fire Control" Tops Will Be a Feature of Interest—Great Change in Appearance of Warships if They Prove Serviceable—Playful Antics of Whale Nearly Causes Loss of Submarine Boat

Provincetown, Mass., July 12.—From the harbor of Provincetown the largest and most notable fleet of warships ever assembled for active duty under the Stars and Stripes, every vessel of the more than half a hundred primed for war, steamed majestically into the deep today for the maneuvers which will tax the ingenuity and skill of the foremost naval minds of the country for the next month.

The vessels, numbering fourteen battleships, cruisers, torpedo boats, submarines, refrigerator ships, tenders and supply ships, numbering fifty-four vessels all told, and representing a valuation of nearly $200,000,000, were drawn up in two parallel lines extending around Race Point along the cape to Truro, four miles below, standing at the head being Rear Admiral Schroeder's flagship, the Connecticut. On board the vessels are 15,000 men.

This morning two divisions of the fleet went outside for practice and maneuvers, two divisions of the fleet remaining inside, which will be the program throughout the maneuvers, the divisions alternating in the work.

The first and second divisions will be the first to go out to the proving grounds and, while the maneuvers are supposed to be secret in every particular, it is known from the presence of targets that target practice will be taken up as well as the customary work on the calibration range and the standardization tests. Perhaps the greatest interest will be in the demonstration of the worth of the new skeleton masts, or "fire control" tops, which, if serviceable, have markedly changed the appearance of the warships.

The big event of the maneuvers is expected to be a grand final review to be made by President Taft and Secretary of the Navy Meyer, which will come near the close of the work, according to the general understanding.

The loss of a submarine boat and her crew through the playful antics of a whale was narrowly averted in the harbor late Sunday. While the Tarpon was partially submerged, undergoing an engine test, the whale came sporting about and, making a rush, headed for the submarine.

Had the animal struck the boat fairly there would have been little question of the fate of all aboard, but as the whale's nose apparently reached the submarine, the animal lifted itself and slid across the bows of the boat, sending the periscope away back and forth as the boat was rocked from stem to stern.

Shore leave was granted Sunday, as it will be every Sunday for the coming month during the maneuvers, when the fleets will return to Provincetown for the week end.

HURRICANE HITS PANAMA

Interior and Coast Towns Are Perhaps Badly Damaged

Panama, July 12.—A hurricane of unusual severity occurred here, doing much damage to property. The electric plant in Panama was put out of commission and the city was left in darkness, which served to increase the alarm.

Many of the residents left their houses, seeking safety within the churches, the doors of which were thrown open to shelter the crowds. It is feared that the interior and coast towns have suffered considerably. The government has dispatched two steamers to make an inspection of the coast.

Close Race of Crack Sloops
Newport, R. I., July 12.—A thrilling finish between Cornelius Vanderbilt's sloop Aurora and G. M. Pynchon's Isabella, in which the Aurora surged across the finish line a scant four seconds ahead, was the feature of the annual regatta of the New York Yacht club around the Block Island course. The schooner cup was won by the Queen, which proved her title by leading the entire fleet home. The sloop cup was won by the Aurora.

Shoe Factory Burned
Lowell, Mass., July 12.—The plant of the E. C. Woodbury shoe company at Salem Depot, N. H., was totally destroyed by fire last night, with a loss of approximately $25,000. It is thought that the blaze was started from locomotive sparks.

Race Suicide Grips Germany
Berlin, July 12.—German statisticians point in alarm to the decreasing birthrate and a pronouncement against "race suicide" such as expected President Roosevelt hurled at the American people is expected from Emperor William.

CALLED PHILOSOPHERS

Government Employee Who Gets No Vacation Has Taft's Sympathy
Washington, July 12.—In assisting to lay the cornerstone of a church which has as part of its equipment a gymnasium, a swimming pool, bowling alley and clubrooms, President Taft took occasion to pay a tribute to the civil employee of the government who, being compelled to remain in Washington while the president and legislators seek their vacations, carries on the work of the government.

Sometimes working for a salary much too low, said the president, he is philosopher enough to know that he can get more real happiness out of life in seeing his family grow and in the education of his children than by aspiring to be a millionaire or a plutocrat.

The president also spoke of the wisdom of providing rational amusement as a part of church work, thus making religion a welcome part of life and not something "to be improved only once in seven days and then to be taken in small doses as possible."

The church is to be known as the Ingram Memorial Congregational, of which Dr. J. W. Frizzell is the pastor.

RECORD IS BROKEN BY LARGE BALLOON

Covers a Distance of 175 Miles In New England

Pejepscot Mills, Me., July 12.—A new record for distance traveled by balloons in New England was made by a party consisting of William Van Sleet, pilot, E. Desercault, Frank Smith, W. B. Sullivan and Charles Gutsell, who ascended from North Adams, Mass., at 2:15 o'clock Sunday morning and landed here at 8:35. The approximate distance traveled was 175 miles in an air line, the best previous distance being 164½ miles.

The Massachusetts, a 56,000 cubic feet balloon, carried a heavy load, the total weight of the party alone amounting to 730 pounds. The greatest height attained was one mile.

CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT

The lectures will be delivered by well known theologians and educators.

For the conference hours there will be a series of conferences, each opened by a special speaker, on the general topic of moral and religious education in the home. The council of the Religious Education association will hold its semiannual meeting on July 13 and 14, and the recently appointed commission on the graded Sunday school courses will meet here July 15 and 16.

MINERS RESORT TO VIOLENCE

Troops Called Out to Guard Inverness Colliery

ON A SYMPATHETIC STRIKE

United Mine Workers Object to Provincial Men Remaining at Work—Situation in Dominion Company Strike Is Unchanged—American Organization Will Not Be Recognized Under Any Circumstances

Sydney, C. B., July 12.—Unable to cope with the lawlessness of strike rioters at the Inverness colliery Sunday, Mayor McLeod was forced to call troops from Halifax to restore order. The Inverness colliery is owned by Mackenzie & Mann and is not connected in any way with the Dominion Coal company, against which the Gluce Hay strike is aimed, but about half the men at the Inverness colliery belong to the United Mine Workers of America and they went out on a sympathetic strike.

The men of the Provincial Workmen's association continued at work in the mines, but when they were leaving the workings for their homes they were met by a crowd of 300 men, boys and women, mostly Belgians, who saluted them with various epithets. Soon sticks and stones began to fly and one miner was seriously hurt.

Last evening a special train from Halifax arrived with 150 men from the Royal Canadian regiment, who at once went on guard duty at the colliery.

A reasonable length of time will be given the employees of the Dominion Coal company now on strike to return to work and if they do not do so, men will be imported in large numbers to fill their places. So President Ross of the company declared in an interview, in which he set out the position of the company regarding the strike of the United Mine Workers. He also said that if American U. M. W. agitators live up to their offer to leave the country he will treat with the men on strike, but in no circumstances will he recognize the mine workers.

The company could only deal with one labor organization, he said, and did not propose to be dominated by the same union which controls the American soft coal mines. He declared that the men now on strike had violated the contract between themselves and the company, ridiculing any suggestion that the company would grant the demand of the United Mine Workers under any circumstances, and expressing perfect satisfaction with the progress of the strike so far. As to the plans of the company, he said that they were going to work the mines.

SUCCESSFUL REST CURE

Conducted in Vigorous Manner and Lasts but Three Days

New York, July 12.—Father Terrence J. Shely of Fordham, one of the largest Roman Catholic institutions in the United States, has quietly conducted a non-sectarian rest cure at the institution. The first class that entered the religious retreat, twenty run-down men, resumed work-a-day life in good health today after three days spent in retirement. The list includes a justice of the municipal court, a publisher, a newspaper man, five lawyers and two Wall Street brokers.

All of them have gone through the following rather vigorous, yet health-restoring and mind-soothing, daily routine: Rise at 6; mass at 7; breakfast at 7:45; morning instruction at 9; conference at 11; examination of conscience at 12:15; dinner at 12:30; afternoon instruction at 3:30; supper at 6:30; evening instruction at 8; lights out at 9.

LOVED NEGRO YOUTH

Irish Girl Shoots Him Because He Ceased to Care For Her

New York, July 12.—Mary Loppin, a pretty Irish girl, 20 years old, walked up behind Joseph Thompson, a West Indian negro youth, in a down-town apartment house where he ran the elevator, and shattered his spine with a bullet.

She fired four shots, three of which lodged in the negro's body. The girl, who became hysterical after the shooting, said that she did it because Thompson had ceased to care for her. The negro will die.

As to Von Buelow's Successor
Berlin, July 12.—The emperor has asked Prince Von Buelow whom he would suggest as his successor in the chancellorship and the prince has recommended Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, minister of the interior and vice chancellor. Several other high officials have been mentioned for the office and there is always the possibility that the emperor will choose quite outside of any publicly named person.

The Roosevelts Reach Genoa
Genoa, July 12.—After a stormy passage, the steamer Cretic, with Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and her three children aboard, arrived here last evening from Naples.

MINISTER LOCKED OUT

Congregation of a New York Church Disagree With the Presbytery
New York, July 12.—When Rev. Dr. Howard Tate approached the Second United Presbyterian church Sunday, just before the usual hour for morning services, he found the doors locked and a sign on the iron railing: "No services today. Closed by order of board of trustees."

Several of the board and many of the congregation were waiting across the street to watch his discomfort. Tate made no further effort and quietly walked home again.

Three months ago Tate resigned. His resignation was accepted by the congregation and sent to the presbytery, that that body declined to recognize it and Tate has continued to preach until yesterday, when those of the congregation who are opposed to him adopted the scheme of locking him out.

The split first arose, it is understood, over an organist, Paul Tate, his nephew, whom Dr. Tate declined to dismiss, as his opponents maintain.

MURDER IS SUSPECTED

Aged Woman Perhaps Waylaid and Robbed in Maine Woods

Wiscasset, Me., July 12.—The body of Mrs. Abbie Cromwell, aged 77, was found about a mile off the beaten road in the woods, between Dresden and Wiscasset Sunday and the authorities suspect murder.

The woman's body was so badly decomposed that the preliminary examination did not disclose the cause of her death, but it is thought that she might have been clubbed and robbed.

Mrs. Cromwell lived with a daughter in Dresden and on June 25 she started to walk through the woods to the home of her son, who lives in this town. She carried with her a large sum of money, as she wanted her son to drive her to the bank to make a deposit.

Despite her age Mrs. Cromwell was active and in good health, and the fact that she was found so far off the beaten track and that her money could not be found have led the authorities to investigate the case.

COMPRESSED AIR AND DYNAMITE

Will Be Used in Trying to Save Naval Collier Nero

Newport, R. I., July 12.—Work was begun today on the naval collier Nero, which went ashore on the rocks at Irenthor's Reef July 1 and for the raising of which John Arbuckle has a contract with the navy department. A fleet of tugs, compressed air plant and a large force of skilled mechanics and wreckers started operations this morning. The rocks under the Nero's bow will first be removed by dynamiting and the bow filled with compressed air.

Until the collier is ready for lifting and hauling there will be no further attempts to draw her from the rocks. Daring bad weather, two weeks will be required for the work.

WITH A SINGLE GUN

Persian Nationalists Compel Well Armed Cossacks to Retire

Teheran, July 12.—Persian Cossacks, commanded by Russian officers, and other troops of the shah numbering altogether 1200, made an attack upon the United Nationalists' forces at a point fifteen miles from Teheran.

Although the Royalists shelled the Nationalists' position with four guns for two hours they failed to dislodge the enemy. The Cossacks advanced to within half a mile of the Nationalists, keeping up a heavy fire with Maxim and quick fire. The Nationalists replied at intervals with a single gun, dropping a number of shells among the Cossacks and compelling them to retire.

No information has been received here as to the number of casualties.

American Horses Make a Hit

Moscow, July 12.—The trotting races here were given an additional importance by an exhibition of C. K. G. Billings' trotters. Lou Dillon made a splendid showing on the track, while Terle, ridden by Billings, gave a performance which greatly interested Russian sportsmen, as horseback trotting is unusual in Russia. Women threw flowers at the horses as they were led past the tribunes. The trotting society gave a banquet in honor of Billings and presented him with a loving cup.

Fatal Auto Accident

Amherst, Mass., July 12.—Mrs. Ada L. Harvey of Amherst was killed in an automobile accident on the Sunderland road. Chasney 12. Pierce of Northampton, owner of the automobile, was at the wheel. When the car struck a rough part of the road Pierce lost control. The machine was upset, plunging Mrs. Harvey underneath. She died almost instantly.

PROTECTING OUR COAST

The presence of four companies of the New Hampshire state militia this week at the forts in New Castle marks a new era in the work of our systems of national defense. Each border and coast state is henceforth expected to furnish the additional troops required to supplement the work of the United States regular army in the limits of that state.

New Hampshire must furnish the men to protect her own coast.

This will rob war of much of the allurements of the possibility of "travel in strange regions, but it takes the utmost advantage of that stronger sentiment of love of home.

They are a good lot of men, and we are proud of them. And it is a fact that New Hampshire, especially by Portsmouth, will be safer in time of war because those men know the work of defending our coast.

And it is a fact that never, since the earliest settlements, has the region now occupied by the United States been thirty years without a war between white men. Indian wars do not count in this reckoning.

SECRET EXPERIMENTS

More About Work to be Done This Year in Naval Ordnance

Word comes from Washington that the experiments with naval ordnance for which an appropriation of $100,000 is now available, will be conducted in secret. It is known that for some time the naval ordnance officers have been anxious to conduct certain tests which involve much expense and which could not be made out of the usual allotment for the bureau of ordnance. It was not expected congress would make provision for such a purpose largely for the reason that objection prevailed in some quarters to the expenditure of public funds in directions which did not always show tangible results. It was pointed out, however, that the beneficial effect of the tests would be no less real merely because new material was not being acquired. There was much in the way of theory which it was desired obtainable only by tests and so many questions have arisen among the experts as to the relative efficiency by various elements of offense and defense that they are highly gratified to have an opportunity to settle them. One of the most important tests is that which shows whether the armor now being placed on American battleships will resist the projectiles of high power guns at battle ranges. In tests guns are now fired at short range with velocities which are estimated to equal that which would exist if the distance were what is known as battle range. It has been asserted by many that the armor will not serve its purpose. Actual experience in firing at such ranges against armor supported in the same manner as on a battleship have never been carried out, and no one knows what the actual effect would be. Another question is whether the high explosive shells will have the effect claimed for them and whether the pressure of the gases of such a violent explosion will blow in the armor side of a battleship. It is also desired to know what will be the material effect of such explosives on the personnel and whether the

LUXURIANT HAIR

Women With Plain Faces Should Study the Hair

Any woman can have beautiful and luxuriant hair by using Parisian Sage, the most efficient hair tonic and dandruff cure.

Parisian Sage is the favorite hair dressing of refined people, and since its introduction into America it has met with wonderful success.

If you want beautiful, lustrous hair, that will be the envy of your friends go to the drug store of Goodwin E. Pillsbury and get a bottle of Parisian Sage and use it for a week.

If at the end of a week you are not satisfied that Parisian Sage is the most delightful and refreshing hair invigorator you ever used, take it back and get your money.

Parisian Sage now has an immense sale all over America because it is guaranteed to stop falling hair, or money back.

It is without question of a doubt the only preparation that penetrates into the hair bulbs and kills the dandruff germs in a week.

Parisian Sage will not grow hair on bald heads, but it will prevent baldness by strengthening and nourishing the hair roots.

Fifty cents the largest bottle for the money and the best tonic for the money, and bear in mind the girl with Auburn hair is on every package.

It is the real tonic for children's hair because it strengthens the hair root.

Leading druggists in every town sell Parisian Sage.

A TIMELY TOPIC

BY
H. H. HAYES
 In Farm World

Gardening,
 Made Interesting.

If the beans you are watching happen to be of the "pole" variety, watch the way they climb their pole and then watch the other vines and note the difference in the way they twine—some going all ways toward the sun and others the opposite direction.

All vines have a wonderful fascination when one begins to study their habits, for their ways of working seem as intelligent and their movements as voluntary as those of a person—but they must be watched to learn these things.

Another interesting study is the relationship of plants. Not every boy knows that the onions he is growing in the vegetable garden are full cousins to the hyacinths and lilies in the flower garden. There are more than a thousand members in this circle of relatives and they will be found in very unexpected places.

A third line of study that holds many surprises is the various kinds of seed formation—the way they are produced and scattered. There may be some surprises, too, in trying to learn how many of our foods and drinks are merely seeds prepared in various ways.

Not only food, but clothes as well, show up some surprises when they are really thought about. When a boy is reminded that his straw hat and his cotton shirt grew in the field he sees them with new eyes and probably begins to trace other belongings back to their origin.

SCHOONER YACHT UP AGAINST BRIDGE

A schooner yacht belonging to New York parties and on a cruise to the east, went up against the Portsmouth bridge on Sunday evening and for a time the craft was in grave danger.

The Captain evidently unfamiliar with the river came up-river late Sunday afternoon and with the tide running up strong he attempted to come about near the coal wharves and beat back. There was but little wind and he found he was losing ground and being gradually swept back against the bridge when the anchor was dropped off the Eastern wharf. This failed to hold and the craft gradually dragged until she was up against the bridge with the tide holding her firmly against the piling.

The predicament of the craft was seen and the Yacht Club notified and several motor boats from the club went up and as soon as the tide slackened to some degree they got a line aboard and towed the craft to a safe mooring off the Yacht Club.

WHOOPIING COUGH AT DERRY

Derry, July 12.—There has been for the past few weeks an epidemic of the whooping cough among the children of this place, and unfortunately the little ones whether effected or not have been allowed too much latitude, it is thought.

Now the local board of health has issued an order that they say must be obeyed, which is that all children affected with the whooping cough must not go out in public to attend schools, parties or church.

The gunboat Hist came up to the navy yard on Sunday and the sailors were given shore liberty last evening.

Something Up to Date in Pictures and Music Tonight

This evening at Music Hall there will be a complete change of moving pictures.

For Monday and Tuesday we are showing a list of subjects which are in every respect the cleanest, best and most thoroughly up to date of anything in the line of moving picture films.

Miss Anna DeCoste, the popular contralto singer, is making the hit of the season in "Bonnie, My Highland Lassie" and "My World is a Dream of You."

NEWBURYPORT LIQUORS

Newburyport, July 12.—The trouble which has been brewing between Mayor Hunt and Chairman Landford of the committee on accounts reached a climax Saturday when Mayor Hunt declined to approve the weekly payroll of the police department, as a line had been drawn through the name of George F. Adams, special liquor inspector.

For several weeks Chairman Landford declined to approve Adams' pay and affixed a note to the payroll. The city treasurer has withheld his pay, since the trouble began. Saturday a line was drawn through Adams' name and the mayor balked.

YOUNG—PARIS

New Hampshire Republican Leader Takes Bride at Wolfeboro

The marriage of Judge Oscar L. Young of Laconia and Miss Anna M. Paris of Wolfeboro by Rev. Allen C. Keith at that place on Saturday will be learned with pleasure in this city. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Paris of Wolfeboro Falls, and has for some time officiated as assistant postmaster. She is a member of the Free Baptist church of Wolfeboro and is a member of the Warren chapter, O. E. S., of Wolfeboro.

The groom is one of the best known lawyers in the state, having for several years been judge of the municipal police court at Laconia, he is chairman of the Republican state committee, having been appointed at the opening of the campaign which resulted in the election of Gov. Henry B. Quincy last November.

THOUGHT THEY WERE GOING TO ROB HIM

Barnard Michaelson, who runs a dye house on Market street, claims he was assaulted and an attempt made to rob him on Saturday night, and as a result of his charges four men were arrested early Sunday morning or during the day. They were Percy White, John Blute, Angie Gobbi and Savini Salvatore.

The story told by Michaelson was to the effect that late Saturday night he was counting his money preparing to leave the store, when White came to the door and knocked. Thinking it was customer he opened the door and White walked in. He claims that White demanded his money, and that he grabbed him and ran him out of the store. When he pushed him in the street he was set upon by the companions of White and badly used up. He has as evidence one thing certain—a blue black eye.

All four of the men got away but later White whom Michaelson identified was arrested and brought to the station house and the others who were with him were arrested during the day.

They claim that they had no intention of robbing him. They all claim that they were on their way down Market street and had a bottle of whiskey which they were unable to open, and when they saw the light in Michaelson's store they went across to ask for the loan of a knife to open the bottle. Michaelson, they claimed got excited and started to drive White out of the store and took his cane away from him. (White is a cripple.) They resented this and started to take the cane away from Michaelson when in the shuffle the end of the cane struck him in the eye and caused it to become black. They will be arraigned in police court this forenoon on a charge of assault.

found guilty of contempt of court by Judge Charles F. Stone of the superior court Saturday and sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and to stand committed.

Mr. Wallace failed to appear himself or by counsel, having been summoned to show why he had not complied with the conditions imposed by the court in connection with the suit for additional alimony brought by Mrs. Nellie Hoyt Wallace who was granted a divorce about 20 years ago.

A decree issued by Judge Stone ordered Mr. Wallace to pay his divorced wife $7000, and of that amount $2000 before June 20, and the remainder before July 1. He had not complied with this order and was cited Laconia yesterday. It is reported that Mr. Wallace is making his home in Boston. The Hon Oliver W. Branch of Manchester appeared for Mrs. Wallace.

CENSUS POST NOT FILLED

Speaker Scott of New Hampshire House Still in the Running for Supervisor.

Dover N. H. July 11—According to the latest developments, Col. Walter W. Scott of this city, speaker of the house at the last session of the legislature is still in the running for the office of supervisor of the census for New Hampshire, no appointment having yet been made by the President.

That a report to the effect that editor Frank A. Musgrove of Hanover had been chosen was premature is shown by the fact that Senator Burnham has replied to a query sent him from Manchester concerning the matter saying that the President has letters in favor of each candidate, but had not yet made an appointment.

DARTMOUTH DATE OCT. 14.

Concord N. H., July 11—At a meeting of a committee of the trustees of Dartmouth College in this city Saturday Thursday, Oct. 14, was named as the date of the inauguration of Dr. Ernest Fox Nichols as president of the college in succession to the Rev. Dr. William Jewett Tucker.

B. & M. HAS ORDERED 2000 NEW COAL CARS

The Boston & Maine railroad has given a big order for coal cars to the Laconia Car Company. It is for 2000 fifty-ton steel hopper coal cars and the order is to deliver as fast as possible, and it is expected that some will be ready for delivery in a short time.

The coal traffic over the Boston & Maine railroad is so heavy that the company is finding hard work securing enough cars to handle the business. The increase in the business from this city has been especially heavy this year. There is seldom a day but there are two or three coal trains from this city to Manchester and Concord, and with the big increase in the mills in Manchester the demand for coal from this port will be greater. The fact that the Consolidated Coal Company is making this the distributing center for northern New England will mean an increase in the coal handling business for the railroad.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Daughter of Commander Fullam to Wed Austin L. Sands of Leading Newport Family.

Newport, R. I., July 12.—During a dinner given by commander and Mrs. William F. Fullam at the naval training station on Saturday for young people the engagement of their daughter Miss Marianna Fullam, to Austin L. Sands of Newport, son of Mrs. Frederic P. Sands, was announced.

Mr. Sands is a graduate of Princeton. His family is one of the oldest in Newport and socially prominent. Miss Fullam has done clever work in amateur theatricals given by members of the summer and army and navy sets here for two years. Her father is commanding officer of the naval training station.

AMERICAN BANKERS FIRM

In Their claim on the Chinese Loan

London, July 12.—The representatives of American bankers, now in London will leave for Paris early this week to make another effort to reach an agreement with European financiers for American participation in the Hankow-Sze-Chuen railroad loan of $27,500,000.

The greatest reticence is maintained with respect to the meetings held in London this week. It is understood, however that the German and French bankers came here under the delusion that the Americans were prepared to accept a compromise.

They found however, that the Americans insisted on the acceptance of the state department's terms and the breaking off of negotiations made by the continental representatives that they be given time to consult with their respective governments, after which further meetings would be held in Paris and Berlin if necessary.

Although confirmation is impossible, it is understood that the English bankers, who held long consultations with the Americans before the arrival of the French and German bankers and therefore were not surprised at their firmness, were prepared to accept Washington's terms.

At any rate they have not reported any difficulty to the foreign office, which they would doubtless do if the proposals were unacceptable to them. It is certain that the Americans will not recede from their stand taken up at the London meeting.

If the Europeans do not agree to it the state department will be advised that an arrangement among the bankers is impossible, and if necessary they will insist that China not sign the loan agreement until the American claim is recognized.

Dover defeated Somersworth in Dover Saturday afternoon by the score of 8 to 2.

THEATRICAL TOPICS

New York's New Summer Theatricals
Klaw & Erlanger have made another innovation in the theatrical business of New York city which has proven an enormous success—namely, the production of a dramatic offering on a roof garden. Brady and Grismer's "A Gentleman from Mississippi" in the Aerial Gardens, which crowns the lofty parapet of the New Amsterdam Theatre, has been received just as cordially as it ever was on an indoor stage.

The success of the departure is revolutionary. It has been held most vigorously that only a show with music and lots of girls would appeal to the summer theatregoer. New York, however, has grown in such favor as a summer resort that the increase in visitors will keep open any house that is cool and comfortable. The stranger within the gates, it has been proven, is keen to see a dramatic success with a strong New York cast; something he or she can talk about when he or she gets back home. It gives one the opportunity to make that irritating, unanswerable remark, "Yes, I saw the show when we were in New York with dear Tom Wise and Douglas Fairbanks in the cast. It was entirely new production, too."

It was A. L. Erlanger's idea to make this wide departure from set custom and habit. He waited until time and tide were right and then launched a venture which will lead to an entirely new departure in the summer theatrical offerings of New York city. Light, breezy comedies will surely hereafter vie with musical productions for the entertainment of summer theatregoers. Mr. Erlanger just saw it first.

The Aerial Gardens has a stage as completely equipped as any theatre in the city. The house itself is complete. With the light of New York twinkling on every side of the cool and spacious auditorium, the voices of the players carry easily to all parts of the theatre and not a word is lost. Best of all the spectators are comfortable and the breezes that blow over Manhattan at the height of the Gardens fan audience and actors alike so that no one need sit in a stuffy hall and swelteringly watch the players' collars and acting go limp under the strain of the heat.

A slight change in the department of the usual audience is to be observed. Klaw and Erlanger have installed a band of troubadours behind a clump of shrubbery. A concert opens at eight o'clock and lasts until the rise of the curtain. Between the acts the spectators scatter over the lofty promenades, which are as attractive as the Aerial Gardens, listen to the music or sip cooling drinks. Smoking is permitted in all parts of the house. The play is a humorous picture of Washington life, told in a pleasant satirical vein. It is cleverly acted, and the company has been together for a full season. Thomas A. Wise is delightful in the role of the Senator and Douglas Fairbanks makes a very manly reporter-secretary.

Footlight Flasher

Mrs. Annie Yeamans the first year on the stage joined a company which started on a tour around the world starting from Sydney, Australia. When they reach Hong Kong the manager decamped with all the money and the company was left in the Chinese city at the height of the awful plague. The little company of players gave vaudeville performances in a back room of one of the American stores and succeeded in collecting money enough to pay their passage to San Francisco, where Mrs. Yeamans and her husband, W. L. Griffiths, who traveled with her and played in the same company, joined a circus.

A. G. Delamater and William Norris III present George Barr McCutcheon's "Beverly," which closed its season in Chicago, June 12, on tour next season.

Next season Max Fisman will star as Dick Swiveler in a dramatization of "The Old Christy Shop," from which Little Nell will be omitted, but in which the Marchioness will bloom large. H. P. Mawson has made the dramatization.

Although Sam Bernard has rejected "The King of Cadonia" as unsuited for his line of work, the Shuberts will give the English piece an early production.

The Germans take the theatre seriously, as a record of the performance of the works of great authors during the season of 1907-1908 plainly shows. The list has been compiled by Brellkopf & Harzel of Leipzig, and covers all the first class theatres in Germany. Schiller was played 144 times, "William Tell" some having reached 22 performances. Sandermaas as played 1202 times, Shakespeare 845, Widenbruch 738, Goethe 795, Bernheim 519, Hauptmann 476, Heibel 499, Lessing 370, Gilparter 369, and Mollere 153.

Garbudo Coghlan, who is to be Robert Edson's new leading lady next season is spending the summer in Chicago. It was in that city that she played the long engagement in "The Lion and the Mouse," in which she was Shirley Rossmore.

Although William Gillette will not act next season, he will produce a new comedy on which he is now at work.

There is much curiosity evinced as to how the leading role in "Caught in the Rain," created by Willie Collier will be handled by Howell Hansel. Those who know Mr. Hansel have no doubt as to his ability to give the part a satisfactory portrayal.

William A. Brady in a letter from London, is succinct and laconic with regard to theatricals there. Thus: "Theatres empty. Public bored to death with their own actors but will not stand for ours."

"King" is the title of what they call a "comedy of money" affairs written by the Messrs. Joseph R. Grismer and Clay M. Green. The title is the name of a stranger from South Africa who upsets Wall Street with tales of untold wealth, while he is borrowing the very money necessary for his breakfast of rolls and coffee. The authors are not new in collaboration; "The New South" was written by them. They were fellow actors in their younger days in California.

Sir Charles Wyndham and Mary Moore will appear in the principal cities of America for a three-months' season in "The Mollusc," beginning in January.

Isadora Duncan has definitely turned her back on Germany, where she achieved her name, and will hereafter hold forth in Europe. She has sent the parents of the little girls whom she was teaching the following letter: "My dancing school does not exist any more in Germany. I have failed to find the necessary support for its maintenance, and my artistic work outside of teaching does not produce sufficient revenue to justify me in bearing the costs of keeping up the school itself. French friends have undertaken to found a school under my artistic direction and to maintain it at their own cost. Children entrusted to my care will receive in this school not only artistic but scientific instruction. Nobody will be received whose parents do not bind themselves to leave their children in my hands until their eighteenth year."

NAVY TO HELP

In the Army War Game Along the Coast of Massachusetts

Boston, July 10.—Added interest is given to the talk and gossip that is interesting military circles by the rumor that the navy is to take a hand in the army war game of next month. Up to now it has been said that the navy would have no part in the demonstration against Boston next month, and that the forts would have but little to do in the defense of the city.

Yesterday it was rumored that to make the attack on this city effective from a military point of view, a few vessels of the great fleet assembled in Cape Cod bay would be drafted to assist the regulars and militia. To take Boston the forts in the lower harbor would have to be attacked and reduced, for with their guns they could make the city untenable for any force that might be brought in from the land side, and in such an attack the ships would give the regular garrisons a chance to show what they could do, as well as give the twelve companies of the corps of coast artillery some real experience.

HONOR SENATOR GALLINGER

Senator Jacob H. Gallinger yesterday was the recipient of a life-size portrait of himself, presented by a committee of citizens of the District, of which Col. Arthur E. Randle was chairman. Colonel Randle told the senator of the high esteem in which he was held personally by the people of the District, and of their appreciation of his earnestness and singleness of purpose in his efforts for the upholding of the city of Washington.

Judge William L. Stephens on behalf of the citizens said in part: "We realize and deeply appreciate the earnest efforts of the committee on the District, of which you are chairman, looking to the upbuilding, the beautifying and the rapid development of the city of Washington and its suburbs. The result is seen on every hand. The filtration plant which guarantees pure and healthful water to the people of the District, and the beautiful Union station, will stand as monuments to your devotion to the city's interest."—Washington Post.

The fact that Richards avenue is all blocked by the trunk sewer job and that Miller avenue is in a bad condition owing to the changing about of the electric road "tick makes these two approaches to the city bad for automobiles and the bulk of the travel is now passing over Lincoln avenue and Pleasant street.

DOVER DOINGS

Dover, July 12.—The Cocheco mill team defeated Berwick on Saturday on the Cocheco grounds, 15 to 6. The features were the home runs of Henegan of Berwick and Kluacide of Cocheco and the pitching of Lacaire after the third inning.

The third game in the championship series between Somersworth and Dover at Central park on Saturday was won by Dover, 3 to 2. Dover was shut out until the ninth, when a bunch of errors, two passes and Jarvis' single netted three runs. Jarvis' hunt hitting and base running were features.

Colonel Samuel C. Fisher, one of Dover's leading citizens, died on Saturday afternoon at his residence, corner of Summer and Locust streets, aged 86. Col. Fisher was born in Framcestown, Nov. 23, 1822. He came to Dover when a boy and entered the employ of George S. Woodman, a dry goods merchant on Central square. Later he established himself in the dry goods business and became one of the leading merchants of the city. The business depression occasioned by the civil war led him to transfer his business early in 1863 to Newbern, N. C., after the place had been captured by Gen. Burnside. There he became successful as a merchant, the owner of a cotton plantation and the proprietor of a hotel, the Gaston house. He acquired much wealth, and after the war closed he returned to Dover. He devoted his attention largely to fast horses and he owned and bred some of the finest in the state, chiefly of the Humberston breed. He was a lover of turf events and for many years attended all the races at Granite State park. His home was one of the most luxurious in town. Col. Fisher served the greater part of the time since the civil war as a director of the Stratford national bank and a trustee of the Stratford savings bank. He received his military title as a member of the military staff of Gov. P. C. Cheney. He was three married. His first wife died before the civil war. After his return from the south he married Miss Sarah Christie, daughter of Judge Daniel M. Christie. She died in 1897. Two years later he married Miss Emily Bacon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bacon of this city, a young woman of rare accomplishments, who survives him. A brother, Gilman C. Fisher of Muskegon, Mich., formerly of this city, also survives.

The question puzzling the city officials and the public generally is: Where are the brown tail millers whose flight everyone has been expecting the past two weeks? During the corresponding period last year millions of these white winged insects swarmed in this city, whitening electric light poles, store windows, sidewalks and door screens of stores and dwellings like the feathery flakes of an April snowstorm, but so far this season very few moths have been seen, notwithstanding the fact that the larvae were exceedingly abundant in this section, except in town, where the nests were destroyed very generally in the spring. The moth flight is at least 10 days overdue.

Judge Wells of the probate court at Tuesday's session of the court disallowed the will of the late C. A. Hussey of this city, which had been contested by the heirs on the ground that Mr. Hussey was mentally unsound when he executed the will.

Work is rushing at the Luddy and Currier shoe shop to get the plant in readiness for resumption.

William Kilmartin was held for the grand jury on the charge of offering stolen goods for sale.

The Advent Sunday school of this city united with the schools of Berwick and Rochester in holding a picnic at Hayes grove on the Rochester road yesterday and the affair proved to be a success in every particular. The day was ideal and all who attended spent a day of rare enjoyment. The local school returned home about 5 o'clock.

NEW NAVAL BASE

To Be Needed for the Protection of the Panama Canal

Washington, July 12.—In anticipation of the completion of the Panama canal, the military authorities are already giving consideration to the best location for a base of military supplies on this side of the isthmus.

Guantanamo, Cuba, was originally selected for that purpose and considerable money has been already expended in its equipment. But the project was apparently abandoned about two years ago and nothing has since been done toward its completion. The plant established there is reported to be going to decay through neglect and inattention. Quantities of material sent there have been sent back and put to other uses. The recent expenditure made at Guantanamo have been such as to keep the plant intact. It is said that these have not been sufficient to prevent the deterioration of important parts of the plant.

The alleged neglect of the Guantanamo station is attributed in some quarters to the growing belief in certain quarters that the Cuban station is not the best place for a war base for the Panama canal. There are evidences that the influence of southern statesmen is being used against further expenditures for the Guantanamo station as tending to minimize the importance of southern navy yards and stations in connection with the protection of the Panama canal in case of war.

It is understood that the necessity of making adequate provision for a suitable military base or station near the Atlantic terminus of the canal will be brought to the attention of Congress at its next session.

NAVY APPRENTICES SANG

In the Streets of Newport on the Way to Church Service

Newport, R. I., July 12.—Twelve hundred naval apprentices marching to church singing "Onward, Christian Soldiers," accompanied by the band of the station and the brigade in shining white duck uniforms, made a stirring spectacle at the naval training station on Sunday morning, which was witnessed by many visitors from Newport, Jamestown and other places, and including Rear Admiral Stephen B. Luce, U. S. N., known throughout the navy as the father of the naval training system, and Rear Admiral J. H. Uphur, U. S. N., retired.

During the services which were conducted by chaplain William T. Cascard, U. S. N., the young men sang with beautiful and inspiring feeling a number of hymns and such patriotic songs as "The Star Spangled Banner," "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

During the service the station's orchestra accompanied the singers.

SAVING THE NERO

Arbuckle's Crew Has Its Preliminary Work All Completed

Newport, R. I., July 12.—Every preparation was completed on Sunday for the beginning of work today on the naval collier Nero, which went ashore on the rocks at Brantons reef on July 1, and for the raising of which John Arbuckle has a contract with the navy department.

A fleet of tugs, compressed air plant and a large force of skilled mechanics and wreckers started operations early this morning and the work is carried on under the supervision of Capt. James P. McAllister and W. W. Wotherspoon of New York, who raised the cruiser Yankee from Hen and Chickens shoals.

The rocks under the Nero's bow will first be removed by dynamiting and the bow filled with compressed air as was done with the Yankee. Airshaft will be sunk into the vessel to allow the men to work beneath decks while air is pumped in.

CHURCH REDEDICATED

Plymouth, July 12.—The Methodist church at Rumney, N. H., was rededicated on Sunday, large congregations being present at the morning, afternoon and evening services. Rev. Thomas E. Cramer, superintendent of the Concord district preached the sermon and again occupied the pulpit at the evening session.

At the afternoon meeting Rev. Joseph H. Trow of Plymouth, a former pastor, preached.

Special services will be held each evening through the week. Rev. W. A.

SIX BOYS IN WATER

All Could Swim and None Were Drowned

That six youngsters are alive today is due to the fact that each of them could swim and the water was not at its fullness in the North pond on Sunday.

The lads got hold of an old boat on the shore and put off for a sail. When out nearly to the channel the craft began to leak and the boys became excited and ran from stern to stern. Finally the whole bottom of the boat dropped out and they dropped into the stream with it. The water at the time was not quite over their heads, but each one held on to the craft for a while and then struck out for the shore. People who was watching the affair from the shore became alarmed and ran to summon help. When assistance arrived the boys were nearly on shore and, though not so badly frightened, they found it hard work paddling with their clothing on. The mill ponds trips will hereafter be made in a more substantial float.

MARRIED IN PORTSMOUTH

It appears now that the eloping couple from this city who wrote their folks of their marriage in Boston on Wednesday were not married and got the surprise of their life when they canvassed several Massachusetts cities hunting up a minister that would tie the knot. Quite different laws in the Bay state than New Hampshire prevented the planned matrimonial event and the couple decided to pass the time in visiting relatives in Cambridge and Newburyport. They arrived home on Saturday and were still bent on being one so they repaired to City hall where Clerk Hillon made them happy at last.

BOYS AT BASEBALL

A Disputed Score

The Young Red Sox and the Shamrocks played on the machine shop field this forenoon and the score is in dispute.

The Young Red Sox claim that they won by 15 to 13 and stopped the triumphant career of the Shamrocks.

The Shamrocks say that the Young Red Sox claim three scores that were not made in strict accordance with the rules, and especially assert that one of their opponents made his run on a foul when he was, by the rules, obliged to hold his base. The Shamrocks, therefore claim the game by 13 to 12, and consider it their fourteenth successive victory.

The Red Sox players were: Moses, pitcher; Soule, pitcher and first base; Quirk, third base and first base; Jones, shortstop; Thompson, right field; Merrill, catcher; Davis, second base; Barr, left field; Loughlin, centerfield and third base.

The Shamrock players were: Ronan, pitcher; Bryant, catcher; D. Grady, first base; Mitchell, second base; N. Grady, third base; Neville, shortstop; Sullivan, left field; E. Grady, centerfield; Woods, right field.
